PRESENTED AT THE SEVENTEENTH ORDINARY THE Directors in submitting to the Shareholders the Balance Sheet of the Bank

vote of thanks to Mr. John Howard TURE, comprising Rep Covered Drawing Room SUITE, Marble Top Side TABLES,

James Slater, Esq., seconded by C.B. Skinner, Pier GLASSES, Centre TABLES, Diving Lead, and also carried manimously; whereupon TABLE, CHAIRS, Dinner, Dessert, and C. Warland, New York March 6th, for the year ended 31st December, 1870, regret the proceedings terminated that they are unable to recommend the pay ment of a Dividend.

In their Oircular dated 5th October last, the Directors informed the Shareholders, that provision would have to be made for losses, then June 23, Diana, North Ger. bk., 167, Jacob- detimated at £72,000, viz., £22,000, caused by a fraud committed at Shanghai, and £50,000 urising from depreciation in the value of Securities held in connection with overdue Bills

> The severe depression in the markets ex. A. Joset, Esq. perienced last autumn, was aggravated during the remainder of the year by the continuance of the war; but, notwithstanding these unfavourable circumstances, the whole of the produce held by the Bank, with the exception of a small quantity (valued at £8,300), has been realised. The result is, that aftertaking credit for the profits of the year are a smounts held in reserve, a sum of £59,022 be. 11d. has to be carried forward as a deficiency to be met By future earnings; but that sum, representing 75 per cent, of the Capital, is fully believed to be a most ample provision for all losses known or apprehended, and does not justify the recent

It will be observed that the profits for tho average of previous years. The Directors desm ousiness transacted. it important, therefore, to state, that this falling off arose, not only from the exceptional causes referred to in their last Circular, but in a still greater degree from the disturbance o the Exchanges, more especially in China, on the sudden outbreak of the war in Europe; and from the restrictions which the Directors, as a measure of precaution, then imposed upon the transactions of the various Agencies. At though these restrictions necessarily curtailed the profits of the Bank, their effect has been to maintain the business on a perfectly sound footing; and, judging from the advices already received, the operations of the Agencies during the present year are of a satisfactory character. The Shareholders are assured that the Directors are more than ever alive to the necessity of enforcing, at all the establishments of the Bank, the strictest economy consistent with efficient management.

In consequence of the continuous decline during the last few years in the value of money in the East, the rates of Interest allowed on Da. posits, both at home and abroad, have been re-

Now we call special attention to two isisam, flotsam, or laganpoints. First, the regulation applies not to British merchants but to British merchandite, the idea underrunning the whole arrangement clearly being to protect the goods from irregular impositions to the detri- . Secondly, in order that schooner Cleopatra, against goods from the the possibility of a mistake arising in its being thought that although the goods could Mr. Sharp, proctor for impugments. not be taxed, levies could be made on the Chinese transporting them, it is provided that they may be conveyed by Chinese merchants to charge. Mr. Sharp, for the bankrupt, said he any part of the Empire. Nothing could certainly be clearer than this; but unfortunately from the agreement being made without that the bankrupt had probably escaped severe the concurrence of the local authorities constant attempts were made to evade these regulations and these attempts were un- career in a new spirit. fortunately only, too successful. This part: of the subject is explained at length in an article in resterdar's Overland Trade Report, which is reproduced elsewhere; but because .there is a difficulty in carrying out the provisions 'of the Treaty, this is assuredly no reason why the Inspectorate of Customs should take upon-itself to go counter to the in a matter which does not properly concern the Maritime Customs, whose business with respect to the transit dues is bounded by the collection of the commuted tax. The cardinal mistake which has been made in reference to Customs have had anything to do with them bome, to try and find some mitigating circumat all. It might no doubt be well that the Transit Dues should be collected under a that I might get something to explain or ex-Inspectorate; but it ought to be under the Provincial, and not the Imperial, Authorities, and at least the large bulk of the Revenue ought to go to those officials to whom, according to the recognised fiscal system in China. it properly belongs. The attempt which has now been made by the Inspector of Customs to force his own interpretation of the Transit Duties' question upon the foreign merchants, is not only an unwarrantable breach of the clear meaning of the Treaty, but it is an interference of the most permitious character with the internal fiscal arrangements of the Empire. Nothing can tend more to make foreign trade unpopular than that the Inspectorate of Customs should interfere with

As to the necessity for foreign merchants declaring that goods for which they demand perty, the article in the Nankin Treaty. above Dues was designed expressly to admit of duty. the transport of fereign goods to all parts of the Empire, entirely irrespective of any demand the protection of a transit page for any Hritish-or of course other foreign-tons possessed of asthetic yearnings, and goods. Similarly, also, he is entitled to transit passes to bring produce which is bona fide the country. Notwithstanding that underhanded means have been taken to evade these stipulations, ho one has yet ever had the temerity to go boldly in the face of them; and it remains to be seen what action will be taken with regard to the step just adopted Francis applied for the forfeiture of the opium the mysterions, influence is lost. The result of the measure which it is now being attempted the opium-former was that their story was chance of braggadacio and defiance is gone, and ferent triends. ed to enforce is perfectly clear. If only foreign owned goods can be protected by transit passes, and foreigners caunot go into the interior of the country to trade, but a very limited proportion of the trade in for sale to foreigners can be protected by the transit dues clause at all; because it is not very likely that foreign merchants will take

A JEWISH OF BREACH OF PROMISE

An action was brought at the Lord Mayor's Court, London, by Miss Caroline Solomon against Mr. William Meiz stated to be a rains. provision dealer, for breach of promise. From the evidence it appeared that the plaintiff. who lived with her mother, had been anxious to get married, the mother being equally solicitous to see her daughter settled. A Mr. Muller had interested himself on the young lady s behalf, and it was agreed that he should have the sum of £3 on his succeeding in introducing a Buitable husband to the plaintiff. Several gentle men were consequently presented by Mr. Muller, but without result ; until September last, when that person called on Mr. Metz, who at the time sold provisions in Petlicoat-lune, at a shop for which he paid, Als., per week, and proposed to introduce him to Miss Solomon, who, he stated had saved up £75 in money, and whose swor any charge for six months. Fu Alak, a mother was worth about £1,000 or £1,200 in shares and stocks, the whole of which she would settle on ber daughter, so that any one who would marry her would be sure of that amount at the mother's death. The introduction took place in September, and the defendant visited Miss Soloman for some months, but according to to his own account he was not engaged to her, and at length wrote to the mother to say that he felt that a marriage with her daughter would not conduce to his happiness. On the other boat, witness then heard some people on the hand, it was contended that an engagement bad existed: that the defendant knew that the wedding clothes had been nurchased, had even who was already in the boat, and had not heard suggested that the wedding dress should be the above remark, went with defendant. PUNTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION. An Anglo-Chrisce Dictionary, by the Rev W. LOBSOHEID, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong.

TAOH scope and practical service this Work

I stands unrivalled. All toe new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to com to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extense. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typo-graphy displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond n the mise of abody, thereby effecting a wast TRACT, the Business Premises lately in Carbon, and is admitted to be fully equal to the cooperate of spece, societies at clearness put previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margine and recent spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications. The scope of the work is so great, and its utilitarian purposes so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinece. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, anti-to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully, with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested in Thins it cannot but be invaluable occasionally. "It comprises upwards of two thousand large
